

ARTS & CULTURE

at Finger Lakes Community College

SPRING 2012 EVENTS

Finger Lakes Community College is proud to present its 2012 spring arts and culture season.

The college will explore exotic Thailand, Robert Burns' Scotland and the music of Ireland. Internationally recognized artist Sue Coe will discuss the political and social issues that inspire her prints. Faculty and students will share their talents and celebrate the legacy of Stage 13, a main campus performance room scheduled to close as part of the college renovations.

FLCC is committed to providing opportunities for students and the community to explore and appreciate artistic and cultural expression. Please join the college community for engaging arts and cultural offerings this semester.
