

The Student Code of Conduct at FLCC applies to behavior on and off campus, between terms, and during College holidays. The Code is intended to foster and protect the free and open exchange of ideas. Students are expected to abide by the Code and to conduct themselves in accordance with accepted standards of good citizenship, respect, honesty, decency, and with proper regard for the rights of others. The maintenance of harmonious community standards requires that behavior that interferes with or threatens the welfare of others or the College community be addressed. Below is an overview of alleged offenses reported to the Office of Community Standards. This list does not represent the number of student found responsible for violating the Code of Student Conduct. For additional information regarding the Student Code of Conduct please contact the Office of Community Standards at (585) 785 1554.
